The best International Pre-University Programme in Spain

The IB® Diploma programme is intended for those students who wish to access a high quality training and receive the best preparation for a successful access to higher education in the best Universities worldwide. This programme at the International School SEK–Ciudalcampo with Spanish host families offers a unique experience for your children: academic, linguistic and cultural enrichment.

International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme (PD)

■ A two-year pre-university programme of the International Baccalaureate (IB®) aimed at highly motivated students aged 16-19, with final international examinations.

■ The curriculum is organised around six courses from the six subject areas and three core elements:

- Theory of knowledge.
- The extended essay.
- Creativity, action, service (CAS).

■ The Diploma Programme prepares students for success in higher education and life beyond.

■ It is characterized by its international vocation.

■ It encourages an active attitude to learning, to maintain for lifelong.

■ It prepares students for entry to the world's leading universities.

Spanish Homestay Families

Homestay

A carefully selected host family will offer the opportunity not only to learn the language but also the Spanish traditions and culture, fostering coexistence and friendship.

Host families are chosen through a very careful selection process in order to best meet the varied needs of the students.

Who is it intended for?

16 year-old students willing to start university preparation courses who:

- Want to improve their Spanish language skills (second most spoken language in the world after Chinese) and live an unforgettable international experience for life.
- Wish to develop pre-university education within an educational model that meets their expectations.
- Want to receive a comprehensive, real and effective training for the university.

Methodology and pedagogy SEK: University Baccalaureate

Our education system is characterised by a methodological change.

- ✓ The creation of a bridge towards the university that facilitates transit of students. The teaching plan of the various subjects is designed following the philosophy of the university credits system.
- ✓ The reversal of traditional work dynamics: the theory and content provided by teachers are hosted on online services, meaning they are available for study at all times and requiring students to do this work outside class time.
- ✓ In the classroom, students use their time to work on the content.
- ✓ Integration of new technologies across all courses, making the most of their potential as work tools: iPads, laptops, video, wifi...
